Upcoming Profile of Velvet

Velvet has agreed to do a profile next weekend. She thinks that now is not a very good time, because she is in her best gown, and wants to have some time. She thinks that the weekend is a good time, so that she will have plenty of time to relax. She thinks it is a good idea, because no one knows much about her. She is the ruler of Hannahland, but not a lot of people know about her story.

New setup

In the basement, there is a new setup being built. And it's in the basement, so you will have to fly there. There are lots of steps, and it is very dirty. Caution! The setup will not be finished for a long time. I'm just alerting you that, maybe, one day, it will be finished. We think that Hannah will answer all your questions about this. She is the one who told everyone about the new setup in the basement. Sometimes she doesn't have any setup, but right now it is in the kitchen, under the art table. She thinks that, if she runs out of space, she will have nowhere to put her setup. But they are cleaning up the basement to build a new setup. She thinks that it is a good idea. Though if you are on the coffee table, it will take you a very, very, very, so long time to get to the setup in the basement. If you are in the kitchen, it will take you a very short time. You could even walk! If you lived in the shoe rack, then you would have an advantage. You may even know about it already, before this newspaper even! It will be a very big event.
