Snuggle Party Cancelled!

Snuggle Party is surprisingly cancelled, because Hannah on the weekend is going to New Orleans, and there will not be many animals and toys there. Hannah's very worried if most of the people aren't at the Snuggle Party, then it won't be as popular.

Big Blast!

We're saying "Big Blast" because this is a very exciting time of the year! Hannah's going on lots of trips with her family, and most of the animals aren't going with her. She can only bring two animals to New Orleans!

Hannah's Backpack

Hannah has an ice cream backpack on the mattress, and she's packing up. Velvet will be going, but not many of the animals. Lots of them will be saying. Just as we said up there, Hannah can only bring two animals to New Orleans, and we suspect that will be true for the other trips too.

Bingo and Uni Fort

Bingo's traffic has been disturbed by Wu-Wu-Wu Zap, since he has been running errands and he is huge compared to them. Meanwhile, no one is working on the Uni Fort, and Hannah is going to New Orleans on the weekend, so they have to work on the Uni Fort! At Bingo, they're worried about Wu-Wu-Wu Zap coming again... They're using the army, the police, everything mostly, to get Wu-Wu-Wu Zap out of traffic.

Explaining

New Orleans is a city besides Hannahland and Ethanland, and inside the house.

Interview with Blue Eyes

This is just a snippet of the interview, so don't judge it by its shortness. The full interview will be published in the next paper.

Monkey: "How does it feel to be married to Emily?"

Blue Eyes: "It feels good! I wanted to be married to her for such a long time, and I like that she's Empress."

M: "Why did you choose her?"

BE: "Because I thought that she would do well, and I also really loved her."

M: "How did you become Emperor of Ethanland?"

BE: "It's a long story... You can read about it on the plaque in Bingo, near Emperor's Tea Time."

M: "What's Emperor's Tea Time?"

BE: "Emperor's Tea Time is something where you stand in line and, if you're a group, you sit down together and have tea (and some other food) with the Emperor."

This is just a snippet. Enjoy!

New Orleans

Hannah and her family are going to New Orleans, and they are leaving tomorrow! If you want to come, you can sneak into Hannah's backpack. But don't be an animal, like a stuffed animal: Daddy only says two of them. In the Blue Eyes picture*, Blue Eyes isn't planning on being brought on the trip. He wants to stay at home.

New Orleans is a city outside of Hannahland and Ethanland and the house. They do not know what it is like, and it is in Louisiana, out in the world (like out the window).

She is flying there, and bringing a lot of her belongings. But not too much, because planes need light packing.
