Parade to Assault Kitchen

The assault force that had attacked Wu-Wu-Wu Zap's new fort has turned around due to orders to attack the Kitchen. The very large assault force will reach the Kitchen on Sunday. It expects to meet enemy troops that have set up defenses because they'll definitely be reading this newspaper! But we received no orders to keep quiet about it, so we decided to announce it.

The weather will be sunny up until Tuesday. ☀️

Binkevis Hotel in Bingo

The old Unicorn fortress (until recently known as Zone Q) is now going to be called: Binkevis Hotel! Binkevis Hotel is named after Bingo, Velvet, and Chris.

It has not been built yet, but it is being worked on. We cannot count up how much money it will cost. We also do not know when it will open, but we do know that guests will be invited. The guests that will be invited include: Emperor Blue Eyes, Empress Emily, Empress Velvet, and Mewnes (Minister of the Dining Room).

We hope that the hotel opens near the end of the month, and that the guests are pleased. This interview with Velvet about it right here will give you a lot of the answers you need.

Interview with Velvet about Binkevis Hotel

Tigger Jack: "Are you pleased you won the lottery?"

Velvet: "Yes! And now, I get to own the hotel."

TJ: "Are you asking people to be your employees?"

V: "Not yet. But I have asked Wu-Wu-Wu Zap."

TJ: "How many rooms will the hotel have?"

V: "Ten."

TJ: "Will your company be in only one place, or be in a lot of places?"

V: "I don't know."

TJ: "Could we do another spot about Binkevis Hotel in the next edition?"

V: "It's up to you!"

TJ: "Thank you for hosting this interview."

V: "You're welcome!"

The Buzz Lightyear spaceship belonging to little Buzz Lightyear has crashed on the Dining Room table and the pilot has gotten out and is talking to the General. It and its pilot and two other Buzzes that were clinging on attempted to attack the Hallway, but they were shot down.
