THE FELINE TIMES

Giant Sea Battle

Wu-Wu-Wu Zap has attacked a cargo ship carrying supplies and troops to the Dining Room. He also wrecked a helicopter and has caused a giant oil spill because when a fleet of ships arrived, he exploded a ship containing natural gas, equipment, and troops. The flood of passengers from the sinking fleet ships has been overwhelming. We hope that we can stop Wu-Wu-Wu Zap from destroying the valuable trade route. We will try to avert the trade route and hope that Wu-Wu-Wu Zap does not attack it.

The weather will be
Sunny up until Sunday. ☀️

Everyone Loves the Cat... Except the Bad Guys

The cat is super cute, and we are scared of losing it. It likes to take naps, and he has woken us up at four o'clock in the morning. If he does wake us up very early, then we put him into the bathroom.

Ethan and Hannah's favorite thing to do in the morning now (instead of snuggling with Mommy and Daddy) is to go downstairs and let the cat out of the bathroom.

Emperor Blue Eyes likes this cat, and thinks that it was funny when the cat laid down in the chair on Wu-Wu-Wu Zap. The Bad Guys think that the cat is not good, and is too mischievous. And Wu-Wu-Wu Zap once even tried to explode the cat!

We think that the cat was owned by someone, because it knows how to use the litter box, and it's very sweet.

Sea Kingdom Joins United Council

The Sea Kingdom has recently been attacked by the Queendom of Ursula. In response, they have declared war on the Bad Guy Council and taken up a seat in the United Council office in Nifluzer. The Sea Queen is currently going to Bingo where she can meet up with the ETH Dollhouse and swim along in a submarine. The sea creatures will help with any upcoming battles that may happen, and are on the Sea Queen's side (except some).

The navy of all the countries in the United Council was already strong, and with the addition of the Sea Kingdom that navy will now be SUPER strong. There will be a room in Bingo for the Sea Queen and her subjects to stay in, and we will also have a giant pool with underwater slides that splash down into the Living Room Sea.

FIGHTER JET CRASHES INTO METAL PLANT

A fighter jet that was attacked by Wu-Wu-Wu Zap has crashed in the metal plant, causing giant explosions in the lava reservoir due to the jet's fuel and ammunition exploding. We saw something hurtling through the sky: it was the ejection seat.

SANTA CLAUS FACTORY PROCESSING PRESENTS NOW

The Santa Claus factory is working on some presents, and plans to ship them to a warehouse where they will wait for Christmas. Santa Claus has landed his sled there and the presents are currently being carried away on a truck.
