Battle in the Bookshelf

Evil Spider Guy and a ton of unicorn bots have made a hideout in the bookshelf. We have taken control of the bottom level, but the second level is still being disputed. Santa's sled has delivered some troops, and the dollhouse — when it docks at the bookshelf — will deliver more. We have a bunker that our troops can hide in, but the enemy also has good fortifications (although not a bunker). The ETH Dollhouse will leave today.

The weather will be rainy up until November 8. 🌨️

Wu-Wu-Wu Zap Causes Chaos in Dining Room

Wu-Wu-Wu Zap, famous criminal villain, has struck in the Dining Room. He has a new cape, and his fortress is really repaired with new upgrades. He has a gigantic army of unicorn bots.

An evil unicorn prototype taxi, driven by the Mimic (a very bad driver), is carrying Creepso (with a blaster and a knife) in the back. They are carrying a very precious gem and some hostages. The taxi has a laser ray that can also turn into a satellite dish. They are alongside the tracks running away from the police, who were delayed when a train went across the crossing and they had to stop. The Mimic is very bad at driving, so he is banging into other cars, causing mayhem. They are on a highway in the Dining Room that carries them to Mother Coast. There is a new rest stop along the highway, and we hope that Wu-Wu-Wu Zap does not blow it up.

Bingo Botanic Garden Fall Celebration

There was recently a celebration in Bingo at the Botanic Garden to celebrate the end of summer. We are currently cleaning it up, because we have finished the party overnight. There was a disruption in the fireworks display when the Fairy Godmother made the words "FAIRY GODMOTHER RULES". Things will go back to normal in the Botanic Gardens, but this time it will be fall.

We have installed a new pond, and the police station is near the Botanic Gardens as well as a farm.

Battle in the Dining Room

The ETH Dollhouse's loading room is really busy. Unicorn bot ships attacked two ships; one tipped over because there was so much water on one side, and the crew spilled over. They needed to rescue those people. The other one got totally attacked; everyone made it out okay, but two members were taken hostage.

We hope that we will be able to capture Wu-Wu-Wu Zap, because he is imposing a reign of terror on the Dining Room. Fortress Sunbeam (the chandelier) is blasting at him, and he is blasting back.
