Vacation to Disneyland Happening!

Vacation to Disneyland

This newspaper is a special edition of the Feline Times about Disneyland Park in Los Angeles.

We are staying at Disneyland Hotel, within Adventure Tower. The room is really nice, but Wu-Wu-Wu Zap found out that we were going and started to cause trouble. A lot of trouble. He sent two giant drills. One smashed out the window and smashed into the pool, and then went into the hot tub.

NICE VIEW

When we look out the window (above) we will see a beautiful view of Downtown Disney.

2

HOTEL POOLS

There is a pool with two monorail slides, two hot tubs, a big pool, and a splash pad.

3

MUSICAL HEADBOARD

There is a headboard (mentioned below) that plays music and lights up.

Nice Hotel

The hotel is very nice, because it's very comfortable.

List of Things that Might Be Dangerous

There is a list of things like, for example, "Will Wu-Wu-Wu Zap find us?"

Paddington is a Fixer

Paddington has recently been promoted to an engineer.

Wu-Wu-Wu Zap Attacks

Wu-Wu-Wu Zap somehow found out that we were going on vacation, and got a giant drill that drove out the window and smashed in the courtyard.

Later, this giant drill crashed into the big pool and then went into the hot tub. He sent another drill soon after, and when we left he sent his giant drills and transports back to his fortress, where we managed to destroy them.

Battle over Wu-Wu-Wu Zap Fortress Not Mentioned in Next Edition

Wu-Wu-Wu Zap's Fortress came under attack again, and we managed to leave it in ruins — which is a great success! — and Wu-Wu-Wu Zap is totally bankrupt and owes a lot of money. We smashed Wu-Wu-Wu Zap's generator, and the power went out in his fortress.

Musical Headboard

One of the nice comforts in this room: the musical headboard plays a song from Cinderella, "A Dream is a Wish Your Heart Makes".

It's controlled by a switch on a bedside table in the middle of the beds. It depicts the Disney Castle (that you see on most Disney movies) with fireworks. There are also stars.

NEW TOYS

There are a number of new toys, like the four Clone Troopers and their flying vehicle. There are also a Mickey Mouse and a Woody doll; Hannah has a Mickey Mouse doll and some Minnie Mouse ears and a backpack. And also a ring collection. And I forgot to tell you about the monorail. We can't get it to work because one of the doors is struck. It's mimicking the real monorail that goes around Disneyland. There is also another park named Disney California Adventure. It has a ferris wheel with some cars that stay still and others that swing back and forth. And in Disneyland, we visited the Star Wars section that we had never been to. And in Disney California, we visited other sections that we haven't been to also, like the Avengers campus.
