ETH Dollhouse on the Move

The ETH Dollhouse, flagship of the Republic of Ethanland, yesterday left its base and is headed for Box Forest. Wu-Wu-Wu Zap has tried to stop it from leaving, but he keeps failing. The problem is, the ETH Dollhouse only has six torpedoes left! Luckily we're well on our way away from this vicious unicorn attack. A few days ago, Wu-Wu-Wu Zap and a ton of unibots went to the basement to attack. Boba Fett had recently stole some plans from the bathroom, and we've just captured him.

The ETH Dollhouse's Engine Room

The ETH Dollhouse's engine room recently underwent major renovations. At maximum speed, the engine room can now achieve up to 60 knots. Furthermore, the batteries have been improved, so that they store more electricity.

The ETH Dollhouse is Moving

Emily and Blue Eyes' room used to be Hannahland, but is now a cozy spot to relax for them. It includes a shower, Blue Eyes' desk, and a video arcade, as well as some drawers and a nice table. Blue Eyes likes his car, but it's across the house, so he's trying to invent a chute that will carry him down there.

Hannahland, which used to be in Blue Eyes and Emily's room, is now where Bingo was. It includes a nice train system, a market, the border crossing, and a bakery that bakes strawberry shortcakes called Berry Bake Shop. Boba Fett was caught here, with Scorpion.
