Battle in Dining Room Rages On

You probably haven't heard from us in a long time, but this battle is TOP NEWS. It started multiple days ago, and has been going on ever since. It's probably at least the tenth Uni Fort battle, but this time Wu-Wu-Wu Zap has installed huge laser cannons, an advanced deflector shield projector system, a uni bot factory, a trash compactor, and a huge wall. Ethanlish forces are struggling to fight through it, and Wu-Wu-Wu Zap is sending spies.

The weather will be sunny up until Friday. ☀️

Health Day Parade!

There is a Health Day Parade that started near Binkevis Hotel and is going to go to Hannahland. The Binkevis Hotel Bonkers are playing, and multiple people have come over from the ETH Dollhouse. Mayor Snip and Vice Emperor King are on a pillow, and Snip is waving.

There are a lot of people watching it, but more people in the parade. Binkevis Hotel was swarmed, but later all the guests went away to watch or be in the parade. The parade route starts at the Binkevis Hotel parking lot. The trains are closed down, so now everyone can walk on the tracks. Fortunately, there are no uni-bots — Wu-Wu-Wu Zap is not fighting much in the basement.

History of Health Day

Once upon a time (this is a story) Ethanland was at war with the Nation of Extreme Diapers. At the last battle, the Battle of Diapersville — the anniversary of which is coming up — Aca II defeated King Diaperus in a great clash. Before Diaperus was sprayed with some cleaning odor, he sent out a plague. Luckily, a few years later, Emperor Blue Eyes Cott solved the problem of it. And that is why we celebrate Health Day!

Happy Health Day!

There was a recent explosion this morning at the Analysis Center. It happened by a machine called the Doom Churner, a machine that can destroy things by shooting lasers and spraying acid. It resulted in 53 microscopic casualties, and a rook. They are in the hospital.

The Binkevis Hotel Bonkers from Bingo, who are missing a few band members (the Clone Troopers, currently battling in the Dining Room, and Peso, Blue Eyes' son, who is also in the Dining Room) played in the Bingo City Hall.
