Battle on Dining Room Table

Earlier last week, a mysterious castle from another land appeared on the Dining Room Table. This castle turned out to be from the Kingdom of Dor, and Ethanlish forces stationed on the Dining Room Table found its occupants inside.

Meanwhile, a battle was raging against the enemy that continued to today. The Ethanlish haven't had direct contact with a lot of Unibots, but there have been air battles and a Unibot guard destroyed.

Planet of Griffynland Almost Blown Apart

Last month, a massive battle broke out above the planet of Griffynland. During the battle, the Doom Star (the famous Griffynlandic flagship) was destroyed, as well as the core of the planet, causing the crust of the planet to crack and destroying the Doom Star factory inside. The United Council is worried about this new development, but they think that Griffyland will be able to come back soon.

Interview with Emperor Blue Eyes

Tigger Jack: Do you oppose the Ethanlish Senate's attempt to take dangerous ways to get the government money, such as deregulating the banks?

Emperor Blue Eyes: I do, but if there is no other way to earn more money for the government, then that may be a last resort.

TJ: When are you coming back to the battle?

BE: Well, this evening I have to contact... Uhh... Top Secret things that you know about, Tigger.

TJ: Are you excited for Halloween?

BE: I think that the evil army of Halloween creatures will try to cause as much damage as they can, and all citizens should be on the lookout.

TJ: Thanks for doing this interview!

BE: You're welcome.

Bingo Renovations

The city of Bingo is being upgraded to a two-level configuration. Mayor Snip agreed to this on Wednesday the 27th. The citizens of Bingo are temporarily going to Dollhouse City while the government replaces buildings.

A far-off country, which we have almost no contact with, has just had an election, and a witch named Anemone has won it. We have spies in the nation, and we think it's going to turn to the United Council if it finds us.
